

While learning about state government Wednesday, Quakertown Community High School's Varsity Singers also brought holiday cheer with their marvelous voices to Pennsylvania's Capital and Governor Tom Wolf's office.

The talented singers, directed by Jonathan Lechner, above right, were joined by their favorite cheerleader, Superintendent Bill Harner, above left, and State Sen. Andrew Dinniman, ranking Minority Chair on the Senate Education Committee.

Quakertown Community High School's Varsity Singers in the office of Pennsylvania Secretary of Education Pedro Rivera.

Directed by Jonathan Lechner, the Varsity Singers do what they do best for the senior staff of the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

With State Sen. Bob Mensch, right, in the rotunda of the Pennsylvania State Capitol. Mensch, of the 24th District, hosted the finest voices in Quakertown.

Surrounding the desk of PA Gov. Tom Wolf, with its family photos and paperwork.